Shadow Factory Participates As An Associate Sponsor At APOStech

Hong Kong – October 22, 2018

Continuing to make huge strides in Asia's digital landscape, VR production company Shadow Factory is delighted to announce its participation at APOStech 2018 of which it is an associate sponsor.

The summit hosted by Media Partners Asia (MPA) is to be held on 24 to 26 October 2018 in Phuket.

Shadow Factory joins other sponsor companies including Akamai, Apigate, Aws elemental, Axiata Digital, Dolby, Nagra Kudelski, and Ooyala.

APOStech brings together senior management, leading experts from the media, telecom, and tech industries across the Asia Pacific to discuss innovations and trends that are redefining telecoms, media, and the internet.

Now in its third year, the conference continues to be a regional success in highlighting the drivers and key market opportunities within emerging information and communication technologies including e-commerce and payments, gaming, AR/VR, and machine learning.

A leading provider of immersive experiences operating across Asia and North America, Shadow Factory empowers organizations with the benefits of next-generation digital media.
